DEVELOPMENT SITE of 31 acres west of Mockingbird Lane near Worthen Park is inspected Thursday afternoon by Stanley Lucas Jr., standing at left, of the SEMCO Corp., developers, and Ralph Morris, realtor for the project. Two phases of the project will include home construction on 55 lots with an additional

$3½ million project

Construction work on development of a new 56-home subdivision that will involve an eventual investment of more than $3.5 million was under way today.

The new subdivision—Town and Country East, Fifth Addition—is located east of Worthen Park between Maryville Road and Mockingbird Lane.

It will include an extension of Westmoreland Drive and three new streets, Keith Drive, Thomas Court and Mark Court.

Work of grading Keith Drive, the first of the new streets, was begun Thursday following a groundbreaking ceremony the previous day by SEMCO Corp., developers, owned by Stanley Lucas who purchased the 31-acre tract from Morris Agency.

Lucas said the first phase of the development will involve 14 home sites on which homes valued at $60,000 or more will be built.

The second phase of the development will include 41 additional home sites on which the limit of $60,000 on each home construction will be applied.

In addition, Lucas said, the area includes an additional nine acres of land which are zoned R-5 for apartments which will be built as the final phase of the development. Contracts for sale of the 41 lots in phase two of the development are now being prepared. Plans have not yet been prepared for the apartment construction, he said.

The area is located within the city limits of Granite City. City Council members two weeks ago accepted a plat for the development after they were told by City Engineer Monroe Brewer that plans for sewerage, streets, curbs and guttering met with city requirements.

It was the second major residential development project announced within the past week.

Work began last week on a $3.8 million subdivision complex on a 15-acre tract of land at the end of Yale Drive, known as Lueders Park Estates, 7th and 8th additions.

That project is being developed by Granite City Realty with work being done by SGB Builders as the contractors. Fifty-one new homes ranging in cost from $65,000 to $80,000 are to be built.

Land for the new Town and Country East development was purchased by Lucas from the Morris Agency which will serve

After nine weeks of hospitalization and operations, Robert "Rob" Ficker, 11, of 3008 Denver St., is home—and happy to be there.

He was injured on May 27 when he fell going down a bluff of the Osage River near St. Elizabeth, Mo. He and a friend, Jeff Hoese, also of Granite City, were going to meet other family members for a day of fishing when the two men tried to get to the river via a new path.

Rob slipped and barely missed grabbing a small tree as he tumbled down the 40-foot bluff.

He shattered his right kneecap and broke his left leg in three places above the knee.

Rob now lies at home in bed in a body cast which starts at his left ankle and continues up his body to his chest.

His right leg is bare of its cast but it will be some time before he regains full use of his leg.

He underwent surgery in Jefferson City, Mo., and was later transferred to Christian Northeast Hospital in Florissant, Mo., returning home Friday.

Rob says he missed "home cooking" the most but was equally happy to return to

Crowd surrounds police near club

Several fights and a "mob" disturbance involving approximately 200 persons who attempted to prevent police from making arrests developed on the street in front of the Upper Level Lounge, 19th and State streets, as the lounge was closing at 2:55 a.m. Saturday.

Madison and Venice police officers were summoned to assist Granite City officers in dispersing the crowd after two men were arrested.

Arrested were James V. Riggs Jr., 23, of Rural Route Two, Box 1125, Apartment 3, charged with resisting arrest and aggravated battery, and Fernando Narvaez, 25, of 1579 Market St., Madison, charged with disorderly conduct.

The incident followed an earlier arrest in which a 19-year-old Granite City woman was booked on a disorderly conduct charge. Police said an officer patrolling the area saw two young women fighting, surrounded by a group of other women on the street near the entrance to the Upper Level Lounge at 1:10 a.m.

The officers broke up the fight and told the women to leave. They arrested Shirley Parrot, 2404 Vine Ave., when she allegedly refused to leave, police said. The woman later was released on $35 cash bond.

Police Sgt. William Harris said he was in squad car outside the lounge when the patrons started leaving the place at 2:30 a.m. Two young men became involved in a fight across the street from the lounge entrance and Harris said that as he was getting out of his car, Officer David Rosenberg arrived in another squad car.

Harris started across the street to where the two men were fighting and Rosenberg began talking to the crowd, trying to induce the group to disperse and leave the area.

At that point a beer bottle was thrown and the crowd began pressing toward the officers.

Sgt. Harris reported that Narvaez began waving his arms and shouting to the officers, "Come on, come on."

Repeat problem at club last night

Two nights after a disturbance outside the Upper Level Lounge, 19th and State streets, a new problem developed early today, with a large group gathered outside the night club while departing from it.

One young man was arrested and police are seeking warrants against another young man in connection with disturbances outside the lounge at 1:25 a.m. today. The activity was not believed related to the disturbance Saturday morning at the same location.

Officers were called early today to remove a young man who struck someone in the mouth and then refused to leave the lounge, it was related.

When police arrived, the young man had left and a large group of people was near the establishment. Officers watched to prevent trouble and reported a youth on a gray motorcycle stopped in front of the lounge and raced the cycle's engine, causing a loud noise.

As police cars approached the motorcycle, the cyclist sped off. Officers stayed outside the lounge, talking to people who had drinks in their hands on the sidewalk, ordering them to dump the drinks out.

At that time, the youth on the gray motorcycle returned and again raced the cycle's engine, with a crowd of youths encouraging him to continue making the noise.

Squad cars again approached and the youth waved goodbye and sped south on the sidewalk to 19th Street, turning east. Police began chasing the cycle and Madison police assisted by setting up a

Louis Jablonow, president of Mid-America, said Friday that the lease agreement and other legal papers are being studied by his attorneys and probably will be signed this week.

Jablonow said that his company would run "good pictures, the same as in St. Louis."

The theater executive also mentioned plans to do extensive remodeling of the theater.

The last picture in the Washington was "Axe" during the first week of October

Alderman dives to safety

A 35-year-old Granite City man was arrested at 12:15 a.m. Friday as the result of an incident in which Granite City Alderman Charles Douglas alleges he was threatened by the man with a knife in Hoppe's Tavern, 2807 Edwardsville Road.

Charged with aggravated assault, was Wendell Tackett, 3007 Edwardsville Road, from whom police said they confiscated a folding knife which Douglas allegedly identified as that with which he was threatened.

Nearly three hours later, at 2:50 a.m., police reported they were called to Curt's Grill, 16th Street and Madison Avenue, where they were met by Douglas who told them he had been threatened by a man he did not know, and that he avoided a fight by diving from his car through the service window of the restaurant.

At Hoppe's Tavern, Douglas told police, he was playing pool when Tackett, with whom he had been acquainted many years, challenged Douglas to a game of pool at $10 per ball. Douglas said he refused.

When he went to a rest room a few minutes later, he said, the man followed him, opened the door and displayed a knife. Douglas told officers the man told him he was going to play a game of pool at $10 per ball with Douglas at 9 a.m. the next day.

To avoid a fight, Douglas said, he agreed and left the tavern. He went to the police station from where an officer accompanied Douglas back to the tavern and arrested Tackett.

In the second incident, Douglas related, he had driven up to the service window at Curt's Grill when a man who had been standing with some other men near the front entrance approached his car and began threatening him.

To escape the man, Douglas told police, he jumped from his car and dove through the service window into an area behind the counter of the restaurant.

Rita Mitchell, an employee of the restaurant, told police the window was broken by Douglas. The man whom Douglas said had threatened him was gone when police arrived, a report said.

Douglas, who lives at 3010 Pershing Blvd. and is an alderman of Granite City's First Ward, said he will file charges against the man if he is able to identify him.

Tackett was released at 11:25 a.m. Friday on a $250 bond.

Locals ratify pacts

New three-year working agreements with Southern Illinois contractors were ratified Saturday in voting by members of the carpenters and the operating engineers unions.

Settlement of new wage and fringe benefit issues for workers of the two unions was the first to be reached as the result of lengthy negotiations between the building crafts unions and the contractors, represented by the Southern Illinois Builders Association.

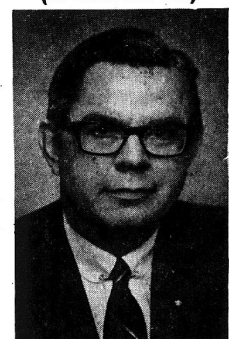

Negotiations continued today at the builders association office in Belleville between the contractors and representatives of the Bridge and Structural Ironworkers Union and the Laborers International Union.

Members of the Carpenters District Council of Madison County and vicinity voted two to one Saturday in favor of an agreement reached during negotiations last week.

That agreement gives the carpenters a wage increase of $2.75 per hour over the three-period, with 95 cents per hour the first year and 90 cents per hour during the second and third years. The new contract

GI Bill training deadline

Time is growing short for veterans who wish to enroll in college or other GI Bill training this fall. Donald Ramsey, director of the Midwest regional office in Chicago, cautioned today.

Students enrolling for the first time this fall under the GI Bill should already be in contact with the school of their choice, he said. Acceptance by the college requires an application as well as testing and deposits in many instances.

Veterans who wish to draw GI Bill benefits must be accepted by an approved Veterans Administration institution and begin training on a specified date in order to receive their first check at the end of the first month.

Many business and technical schools also require prior enrollment and acceptance sometime before actual classes begin.

Less than half of the Illinois Vietnam Era veterans have taken training under the GI Bill, and eligibility for training ends 10 years after discharge.

Ramsey said that as a result of this record, the VA is making every effort to urge eligible veterans to use the GI Bill benefits before they expire.

Veterans in training full-time receive $311 a month, and other benefits are available. Full information is available at the VA or from veterans' service organizations.

Record quarter for NW

Norfolk and Western Railway smashed its previous single quarter earnings and revenue records during the period ended June 30, John F. Fishwick, president and chief executive officer, told a meeting of financial analysts last week in New York.

NW reported second-quarter net income of $68.6 million, or $1.20 a primary share, up 81 percent from the year-earlier earnings of $37.9 million, or $1.21 a share.

The results exceeded by 47 percent the previous quarterly record of $46.6 million, or $1.49 a primary share, set in the fourth quarter of 1976.

Fishwick attributed the record-breaking performance to strong coal traffic, as coal users rebuilt stockpiles after a prolonged strike by miners, and to "reasonably healthy" levels of merchandise traffic. Grain traffic was especially strong, with an 18 percent gain over the year-earlier quarter.

For the first half, net income totaled $55.9 million, or $1.79 a primary share, up slightly from $55.6 million, or $1.79 a primary share, a year earlier.

The higher first-half results came despite a $12.7 million loss sustained in the first quarter because of the coal miners' strike.

Revenues during the second quarter also established a record for any period in NW's history, totaling $380.0 million, 13 percent above the $336.3 million in the year-ago period, the previous single-quarter revenue record.

For the first half, revenues totaled $605.8 million, three percent below the previous period's revenues of $626.5 million.

The Norfolk and Western Railway Company board of directors last week declared a regular quarterly dividend of 46 cents per share of common stock, payable Sept. 11 to stockholders of record on Aug. 4.

Daughter of former GC pastor dies in Upper Volta, Africa

Funeral services were conducted July 13 at 1 p.m. in Koudougou, Upper Volta, Africa, for Laura Eitelman, 15, a daughter of Ray W. and Patsy Eitelman who have been serving in Upper Volta as Southern Baptist missionaries. The Rev. Eitelman served as pastor of the First Baptist Church in Granite City before his appointment to overseas service. The family has lived in Africa three years and will leave there today to return to the United States for a 10-month visit.

Miss Eitelman became ill on July 1 of hepatitis in boarding school in Ivory Coast and returned to her home on July 5. She was admitted to the hospital there, where she died at 6 p.m. on July 12.

She was buried at 1 p.m. the following day on land owned by the organization of missionaries in Upper Volta, where her parents served in agricultural evangelism.

Other than her parents, she is survived by a sister, Julie, who is 14, and grandparents. Rev. and Mrs. Eitelman are natives of Texas, but are known to a number of Illinoisans as a result of their ministry in Granite City.

The Eitelman family will return to Arkansas and plan to visit in Granite City during the Thanksgiving holiday. They may be contacted at the Scenery shop, TV, science, computer tours at university

Part of the magic of the theater is often fashioned "behind the scenes" at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where artisans design and build illusions that the audience sees under the lights.

This summer, visitors are getting a peek at that magic in a special tour of the theater scene shop and 16 other areas of the campus, sponsored by the University Information Center.

The half-hour-long visits are open to the public at no charge and may be taken in groups of one to 100, according to Jan Bradley, tour secretary.

The only requirement is a two-week advance reservation. In addition to the theater, visitors may choose to see themselves on television in the Communications Building studio, or watch a live broadcast of weather and news at WSIE radio.

Other tours are available to Data Processing, Food Service, Lovejoy Library, the Bubble Gymnasium, the earth science or science departments, Printing Service and the Religious Center.

Off the main campus, tours may be arranged to the East St. Louis Center, the art department and studio at the Wagner complex in Edwardsville, and the waste treatment plant and Environmental Resources Training Center on Poag Road. Special hands-on visits have been arranged with Chicago, the SIUE cougar, and at the folklore archive, repository of SIUE's extensive quilt collection.

All tours are conducted by the University Ambassadors, student tour guides at SIUE, as part of the University Information Center service.

For further information or to arrange to visit one or more of the special tour areas, Quad-Cityans may call 882-2739. The University Information Center is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

He also misses playing with his baseball team, the "Raiders," and ironically when hurt had just been awarded the only blue ribbon in a school district-wide sports day. He represented Washington School, where he was finishing his sixth year in school with straight "A's." He won the first-place ribbon in the shuttle run.

Rob will be going to Frasier Junior High in the fall but will have to miss the better part of the first grading period of the new school year.

is effective at midnight today.
For the first year of the contract, this will bring the carpenters' wage scale to $12.28 per hour from its present $11.33 per hour.

Under the agreement, however, 30 cents of the 90-cent wage increase in the first year will be applied to the pension account, leaving an actual increase of 65 cents as shown on the pay checks, according to a spokesman at the district council office.

During the second and third years, 10 cents of the 90-cent wage increase will go to pensions and 10 cents will go to health and welfare purposes. This will give workers a 70-cent per-hour increase on their pay checks, the spokesman said.

The new pact affects approximately 1,700 carpenters in a nine-county area. A union official said that in reaching the new agreement the union agreed to a schedule of time and one-half instead of double-time for overtime work on commercial property during weekdays, and agree to a time and one-half schedule for work on residential property at all times.

Ratification of the new contract between the contractors and the International Union of Operating Engineers was approved by a vote of 461 to 34 in Saturday voting at the union's offices in Mitchell.

Officials declined to give details of the new contract, noting that negotiations still are under way between four other craft unions, including the ironworkers, laborers, cement finishers and carpenters of the Tri-County Council based in East St. Louis.

They said details of the contract would be released after negotiations by the other crafts are completed.

Meanwhile, officials of the Tri-County Carpenters Council have agreed to extend their contract deadline from midnight today to midnight Aug. 4 to permit additional negotiating sessions.

Cement finishers were scheduled to meet tonight in a negotiating session with the contractors.

All of the craft union contracts expire at midnight today.

GC street program

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

The office of City Engineer Monroe Brewer has begun planning for the resurfacing of at least 35 separate sections of Granite City streets which will be done this summer and fall at a cost estimated between $20,000 and $250,000.

Plans for the projects are being developed following approval by the city's 14 aldermen of priority projects in their respective wards. All of the projects will involve blacktop resurfacing only as a means of repairing extensive street damage caused by last winter's severe cold weather, ice and snow.

In each instance the aldermen of the city's seven wards presented a list of preferred street repairs to the city engineer who compiled cost estimates for each of the projects.

During a council session last week, the aldermen gave their approval to a list prepared by the engineer, although some minor changes were made.

The work will be financed with motor fuel tax funds that will be used to purchase materials for the resurfacing work which will be done by the city.

The largest project recommended by Mayor Paul Schuler also are included on the street repair list.

The largest project recommended by Mayor Schuler provides for the resurfacing of Niedringhaus Avenue from 20th to Adams Street at an estimated cost of $25,000.

The other two improvements urged by Schuler are the resurfacing of 27th Street from State to Benton (on the park side) at an estimated cost of $7,000, and the resurfacing of 24th Street from State to Benton (on the south side), at a cost of $6,450.

Three resurfacing projects are scheduled in Ward One. These will include Washington Avenue from 22nd to 23rd Street at an estimated cost of $9,450; Monroe Avenue from 21st to 23rd Street at $13,387, and Lee Avenue from 22nd to 23rd Street at $6,331. These jobs were recommended by Aldermen Everett Morien and Charles Douglas.

In Ward Two, the largest project will be resurfacing of Grand Avenue between 20th and 22nd streets at an estimated cost of $20,281.

Also scheduled is improvement of Iowa Street between 29th and 30th streets at a cost of $7,304. The aldermen of the ward, Sam Whitmer and Fred "Pat" Schuman, also have recommended resurfacing the 2300 block of Cleveland Boulevard. Brewer said this job has not been figured and a cost not yet estimated.

Ward Three projects include the improvement of Kate Street from 23rd Street to Sheridan Avenue at a cost of $11,842; Dodge Avenue, 23rd to 24th, Benton Street, 2200 block, $6,841, and 24th Street from State to Washington, $4,728, recommended by Aldermen Roy Paulus and Clyde Boyd.

A total of $23,849 in improvements are scheduled in Ward Four, with one additional job still to be checked and an estimated cost determined.

Already listed are improvement of the 2900 block of State Street at a cost of $5,083; Benton Street from 27th to Oregon, $10,956, and Benton from 27th to Oregon, $7,800.

This latter improvement also will include widening of the street by two feet. These projects were listed by Aldermen Warren Deatour and Glen Sprankle.

The other project for which no cost estimate has been made in Ward Four is the improvement of Logan Avenue from 23rd to 25th street.

Brewer said final cost estimates have not been computed for the single project sought for Ward Five which will involve the construction of curb and guttering in addition to blacktop surfacing on Morgan Avenue from Roosevelt Avenue for about 400 feet.

He said the Ward Five project is expected to cost slightly less than $35,000 set as a maximum for work to be done in each ward. These projects were recommended by Aldermen Lloyd Bailey and Mrs. Margaret Nomm.

Four projects are slated in Ward Six, with the largest improvement on Fortune Drive from Sunset to Leonard, at an estimated cost of $13,110.

The other three projects in Ward Six will include resurfacing of Willow from Edgewood to St. Clair, $8,786; O'Hare from Edgewood to Kilmer, $7,522, and Wilson from Fortune to Sunset, $3,639. Aldermen of Ward Six are Gerald "Jerry" Farnley and Earl Baker.

In Ward Seven, Brewer reported the projects will include resurfacing of sections of Oaklawn Drive, Janday Lane and Terrace Lane at a combined cost of $35,131. This work was recommended by Aldermen Ronald Coleman and Paul R. Bowler.

Crowd

Both officers told Narvaez he was under arrest and the man pulled away from them and "went to the ground," the officers reported. As they tried to get him up, the crowd started pushing toward them, but a man in the crowd and several friends pushed the others away from the officers, permitting them to get Narvaez into a squad car.

Sgt. Harris and Rosenberg radioed for more assistance and were joined by other officers from Granite City, Venice and Madison.

During their efforts to arrest Narvaez, a walkie-talkie was taken from Rosenberg's belt and disappeared.

During subsequent attempts to get the crowd to break up, police said that Officer William Curtis was "bumped" several times by one of the crowd, and when the man was told he was under arrest he began fighting, kicking and yelling, the officers reported.

Force was needed to arrest Riggs, police said.

There were no injuries.

Police reported that as Riggs was being booked, a man came into the police station and gave officers the walkie-talkie that had been taken from Rosenberg. The man said he found the radio unit in his car after the disturbance.

Authorities said the fighting apparently was the result of a fight that had occurred at the Upper Level Lounge several nights previously.

Shotgun fired at A. O. Smith guard post

Three shotgun blasts were fired at a security guard shack at the south gate of the A.O. Smith plant on Route 3, police were told at 9:55 p.m. Saturday. Bill Scroggins and Paul McCargo, plant guards, said that immediately after the shots were fired they saw a dark-colored car drive south on Route 3 at a high rate of speed. Buckshot pellets were found on the ground by the guard house and three discharged shotgun shells were found along Route 3, it was reported.

roadblock at 20th Street and Madison Avenue.

The cyclist crossed into the oncoming lanes to go around the roadblock and ran the red light at that intersection, it was alleged.

At 23rd Street and Madison Avenue, with officers in high-speed pursuit, the cyclist passed a van which then changed lanes in front of the police, nearly causing an accident, it was alleged.

The van tried to stay between the police and the cyclist, but officers went into the oncoming lanes to pass the vehicle.

A roadblock was established at 26th Street and Madison Avenue. The cyclist went through the roadblock and turned east on 26th Street. Police lost sight of the vehicle at 26th Street and Washington Avenue, they related.

The van which had been following police since they passed it was stopped and the driver was arrested. Police alleged finding open beer and a wooden Billy club with a lead tip on it inside the van.

The club was confiscated. Ricky N. Hall, 22, of 2435 Lincoln Ave., was charged with obstructing justice, illegal transportation of alcohol, speeding and failure to yield to an emergency vehicle.

Officers alleged they saw Hall talking with the driver of the motorcycle outside the Upper Level Lounge just before the disturbance began. Hall said he did not know who the cyclist was.

At 1:45 a.m. today, police were called to a disturbance in the 2400 block of Lincoln Avenue and arrived to find the same youth and cyclist involved in the incident.

As police approached, the youth sped off on the cycle and was chased east on Lincoln Avenue to Ridgedale Avenue, then south to East 23rd Street and east to Route 162, during which the cyclist allegedly violated red lights at East 23rd Street and Nameoki Road and at East 23rd Street and Route 162.

Granite City police discontinued their chase at that location and notified Pontoon Beach and Madison County sheriff's deputies that the cyclist was eastbound on Route 162.

Officers from those departments picked up the chase near Pontoon Beach, but the cyclist also eluded them. Police returned to the 2400 block of Lincoln Avenue where they talked to Clarence Sorenson, 2431 Lincoln Ave., about the earlier disturbance involving the cyclist.

Sorenson said the cyclist leaned his bike against Sorenson's auto and refused to move it. The youth who was riding the cycle exchanged words with Sorenson, who had a relative call police.

Sorenson alleged the youth told him he had a gun and would shoot Sorenson if he did not go inside. Police arrived at that time and the youth fled.

Officers said they have identified the youth who fled on the motorcycle and are seeking warrants alleging the youth's driver's license is suspended and also listing traffic charges from the chase.

Police said they answered two other calls to the Upper Level during the weekend, in addition to the incidents Saturday morning and early today.

Sonia McIntyre, 2606 W. 20th St., reported Sunday that her purse had been stolen from her table in the lounge Saturday night. The purse contained her driver's license, photographs and a razor but no cash, she said.

At 11:20 p.m. Sunday, police alleged seeing a man standing on the sidewalk in front of the lounge entrance expelling himself. A 22-year-old St. Louis man, William K. Metcalf, was charged with disorderly conduct and was released on $35 bond.

Sternberg

President and founder of a diversified construction company whose professional staff has reached 20 in number, Sternberg along with the S. M. Wilson Co. is installing sanitary sewers in a major 1978-79 project that includes parts of Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships. The sewer lines will connect with the Tri-City Port area and the mammoth Granite City municipal treatment plant.

He was honored at a large banquet here in 1968 as Optimist International's golden anniversary year president. He also has led the Southern Illinois Builders Association and its Industry Advancement Foundation, Granite City Optimists, the Council of Contractor Associations and the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council.

A regional and international scouter and speaker and a former city alderman, Sternberg has been active as an American Arbitration Association arbitrator and as a national director and committee member of the Association General Contractors of America.

Born in DuQuoin, Ill., he moved here at the age of five, attending local schools, the University of Illinois and Washington University. He has been the chairman of many local fund campaigns.

Theater

1977. Speculation is that the theater may re-open with "Jaws II."

Loren Worthen is spokesman for a group of investors which purchased the half block of buildings in the 1300 block of 19th Street from the St. Louis Amusement Company in St. Louis last March. The amusement company operated the Washington theater.

The new owners have spent nearly $90,000 in remodeling the building complex including new roofing and interior remodeling.

New tenants in the formerly vacant buildings include: Jo-Lin Furniture, Vaughn-Coleman Organ and Pianos, with the Christian Science Reading Room remaining in the same location.

The Granite City Dental Laboratory is located upstairs and, according to Worthen, there is still office space available upstairs which will be remodeled for a tenant.

Future plans call for a complete new front for the full half block area. The plans are now being drawn by an architect.

Construction work on the project is being done by the George Arnold Construction Co. and will include new streets, curbing, guttering, street paving and a stormwater retention pond.

Corlew & Associates engineer the project and Norman Klinger is attorney for SEMCO Corp.

"This is the culmination of two years work," Lucas said.

He noted that the three new streets in the subdivision, Keith Drive and Thomas and Mark courts, are named for his three sons.

SUIT FROM SHOOTING

Michael Baggett, who was shot in the head outside Curt's Grill, 1623 Madison Ave., March 25, has filed a $15,000 suit in Madison County Circuit Court against Curt Brown, owner of the grill. The suit alleges Brown shot Baggett, causing injuries to Baggett's brain.

ACCIDENT VICTIM Miss Lisa Crippen, 18, of 3333 Johnson Road, is placed on a stretcher by city ambulance EMTs after her auto and several others were involved in an accident at 1623 Madison Ave. at 1:03 p.m. Thursday. Miss Crippen suffered a fractured left knee and pain to the chest and was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital in a dazed condition. An alleged "hit and run" vehicle reportedly hit another auto, forcing it into the Crippen auto and another vehicle. No other major injuries were reported.

Man found trying to enter house

David Knight, 2015 Washington Ave., Apt. 1, was awakened at 4:45 a.m. Sunday by the sound of glass breaking and investigated to find a young man trying to break into his apartment.

The man had broken four windows in the front door. He fled when he saw Knight inside the apartment. Knight described the man as about 5 feet 8 inches tall and having long blond hair.

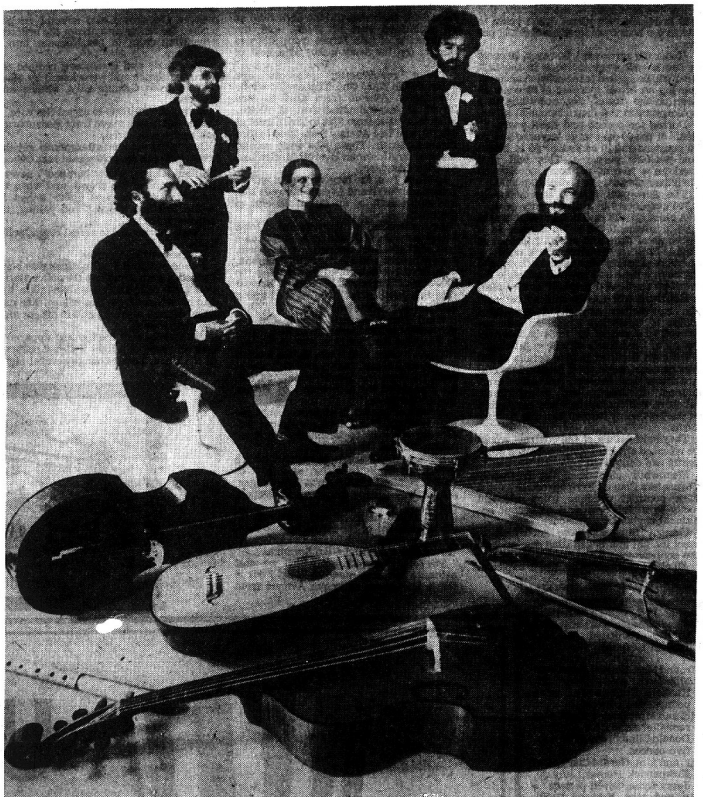

Knight discovered there was no electricity to his apartment and found the fuse box had been tampered with.

Hits utility pole, passenger injured

The auto of Carmen Hahne, 1631 Second St., Madison, went out of control in the 1600 block of State Street at 11:15 p.m. Sunday, struck a guide wire to a utility pole and then struck an electrical pole and fence belonging to Granite City Steel at the former General Steel Industries facility.

The accident downed about 50 feet of chain-link fencing and electricity was interrupted to a row of lights in the parking lot nearby, police said.

Lori Bremen, 17, of 2038 Edwardsville Road, one of four passengers in the car, was injured and was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was admitted for observation with back pains.

News notes

Consumer prices rose 8.9 percent — a 10.8 percent annual rate — during June, the same rate as in May and April.

Comprehensive health care coverage through a national health insurance plan was urged Saturday by the Carter administration. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D, Mass.) and AFL-CIO President George Meany assailed it as inadequate.

The 38th annual Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting is planned for Thursday, Oct. 26, at Sunset Hills Country Club.

Nine hundred delegates cheered Comptroller Michael Bakalis, would-be lieutenant governor Richard Durbin and former Lieut. Gov. Neil Hargan at a Democratic state convention Thursday in Springfield. The group decided against endorsing a "tax relief" petition circulated by the Coalition for Political Honesty. Endorsed to run for the University of Illinois board against three Republican incumbents were Robert Johnson Webb, a Simpson farmer, Paul Stone, a Sullivan attorney, and Dr. Edmund Donaghue, a Wilmette physician.

Legislative Committee Chairman James Heil of Godfrey said Thursday the panel cannot investigate trial-related allegations about the sheriff department without buying a transcript of the Alton trial at an estimated cost of $2,000. He said such a probe might jeopardize the civil rights of deputies. The committee had been authorized by the County Board this month to study charges voiced during the racketeering-perjury trial.

Gov. James R. Thompson on Thursday vetoed bills calling for a partial property tax rebate.

Kahok dancers will perform at 8:30 nightly through Saturday at the Cahokia Mounds historic site on Highway 50.

St. Stanislaus Lodge of Madison will hold its 15th annual public barbecue at 7 p.m.

Ask contempt order in church dispute

A request was sent Friday to Judge John Karns of the Fifth Appellate Court at Mount Vernon to hold members of the old board of the Holy Trinity Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox Church, 1300 Grand Ave., Madison, in contempt of court.

Bishop Simeon recently appointed a new board to govern the church.

Attorneys James Radcliffe, representing the old board, and Nick D. Vasilief, representing the new board and Bishop Simeon, met with Judge Karns on Monday, July 24, who informed them he would have to consult with the other two Appellate Court judges before issuing a stay in a July 19th Circuit Court order upholding the new board appointed by the Bishop.

Judge Karns allegedly suggested that the two factions combine their two suits and take the issue to the Circuit court for trial and then appeal the decision to a higher court.

Vasilief asserted that Radcliffe refuses to meet with him. Vasilief has asked the court to hold the old board in contempt of court as they allegedly have ignored Judge Karns, and the orders of the Circuit Court, have opened a new bank account in Belleville, allegedly refused to turn over church records and property to the new board and have interfered with the bishop in conducting a meeting.

Highway work, all-bus mass transit, auto exhaust inspection plans mapped

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board of directors last week endorsed an application from the State of Illinois for $18.5 million to reconstruct a portion of Route 143 in Wood River.

The project provides for relocating six miles of roadway. A grade separation will be constructed over the railroad east of Illinois Route Three.

Bridges will be constructed over railroad tracks west of Main Street and over Indian Creek as part of the project.

In another transportation-related matter, the board endorsed preliminary engineering archaeological studies for two portions of Interstate 270 in Madison County.

Cost for the studies, proposed by the State of Illinois, is $225,000.

Of this $225,000 will be spent in beginning preparation of an environmental impact statement (EIS) on the section of highway proposed to run from 1-5670 to existing I-270; and $300,000 will be spent for beginning preparation of an EIS on the section running from I-270 to U.S. Route 67 north of Alton.

Total cost for both projects is $57 million. In endorsing the studies, the board reserved the right to again review the projects when construction funds are requested.

Gateway Board Chairman Gene McNary announced that a proposed light rail (modern trolley) system has been dropped from the St. Louis region's mass transit plan.

An expanded bus system will take place of the rail lines, it was decided.

The board had recently sought assurance from the Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA) that engineering and construction funds for light rail would be granted if a required $1.5 million worth of additional studies were completed.

"UMTA could give us no such assurance," said McNary, "and it became a choice of either completing our plans with more conventional bus service, which we know is available, or studying light rail for another year or more only to be disappointed again."

The board's action means that the mass transit plan now calls for an expanded all-bus system.

This will result in more immediate benefits and more efficient use of tax dollars by avoiding additional costly studies and long delays, the board asserted.

In response to the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1977, which threaten to limit economic development in the St. Louis region, the Gateway board authorized Chairman McNary to appoint a committee to cooperate with the two states and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) in meeting the requirements of the federal legislation.

Both Missouri and Illinois are expected to submit plans to the EPA by Jan. 1 outlining what they propose to meet air quality standards in the St. Louis region.

Since more than half of the area's air pollution comes from autos, the plans are expected to include required exhaust emission control system inspections.

Cooperation between the states and local officials will be essential in making any program effective, McNary emphasized.

The board heard a report on the issue of solid waste management.

The Bi-State Development Agency has been given added impetus in pursuing completion of a trash-to-energy project, with the City of St. Louis and St. Louis County committing matching funds for financing the final planning stages.

Trash-to-energy is seen as a key part of the solution to the St. Louis region's growing waste disposal problem.

Instead of conventional landfilling, it calls for salvaging reclaimable materials from trash, and shredding the combustible portion to use as electricity-producing fuel.

In other actions, the board endorsed an application from the Bi-State Development Agency for $2.9 million for expansion of an industrial park at the Bi-State Parks Airport in Cahokia, Ill.

—Endorsed an application from the St. Louis County Department of Parks and Recreation for acquiring 98 acres of grounds owned by the National Museum of Transport.

—Endorsed the following road projects in St. Louis County:

1. A bridge replacement over the Meramec River on Missouri Route 141.

2. Interchange revisions at Missouri Route 725 and U.S. Route 40; and

3. A road resurfacing project in Ferguson.

McNary's mass transit statement, which preceded the board vote, follows:

"As chairman of East-West Gateway, I am going to recommend to the board that we proceed with plans for an all-bus system for the St. Louis area."

"Although this alters the proposal adopted by the board in February, which included

Forecast—any Illinois 'Prop. 13' would be a disaster for schools

State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin warned Thursday that "Proposition 13 type legislation would be a disaster for Illinois schools."

He urged the State Board of Education to study "every aspect of tax and expenditure limits, as well as work with the Illinois Association of School Boards study group examining Proposition 13 type remedies."

Dr. Cronin cited three major reasons why he believes Proposition 13 (California) legislation would have a ruinous effect on Illinois schools:

1. The Illinois state treasury lacks a big state fund surplus for distribution to Illinois schools, in comparison to California's $5 billion surplus.

2. Most Illinois counties already have lower school tax rates than those counties in California—especially Orange and Los Angeles counties—whose property taxes have doubled and tripled.

3. A tax proposition calling for a time limit extension on repeal of the corporate personal property tax is already on the Nov. 7 ballot. If it is not passed, schools would lose as much as $400 million in tax funds by 1980, a 10 percent reduction for many school districts and as much as a 40 percent reduction for a few.

He said that Illinois previously tried a property tax rollback "and it almost killed several dozen of our finest schools." The rollback on school property tax was repealed in 1976, he added.

Dr. Cronin termed current Illinois approaches "more reasonable and gradual," since they include tax relief for those on fixed incomes and for farmers.

Venice technical school classes resume Tuesday

Teachers at Venice-Lincoln Technical School will assume their jobs in the new school year Tuesday, Aug. 1, under a 23-day interim agreement that will give the Venice School District time to determine its financial capabilities in funding some school programs. It was agreed in a special meeting of the Venice School Board Thursday night.

A delegation of ten teachers at the Lincoln Technical School conferred with School Board members during the meeting and decided to accept the interim proposal under an agreement worded by Dick Mudge, an attorney representing the group.

In letters sent to the teachers by the district, they had been asked to accept the 23-day interim period by waiving their rights to remain employed under the current contract and accepted school code.

The teachers, however, felt that the waivers they were asked to sign were worded in such a way that they would be forfeiting tenure if they signed them. A revised wording for an interim agreement was presented by Mudge, to which the teachers agreed.

Superintendent of Schools Robert Vickers said that agreement is to be studied by the school attorney.

The problem grows out of school district financial difficulties, not the least of which are indications that the district may lose a substantial amount of its Title VII government funding this year. Since Title VII funds are used for a large portion of public school operations, a cutback in these funds would mean a substantial reduction in school personnel, according to Vickers.

Operations at the Lincoln Technical School are to resume Tuesday, while public schools do not open until Aug. 23.

Some teachers at the Venice-Lincoln school — an adult vocational school — have less seniority in the district than others employed in Title VII programs at the public school. Should Title VII funds be eliminated or drastically reduced, senior teachers in that program would be eligible to move into positions now occupied by teachers with less years of service, Vickers explained.

It is the interim period between the opening of the vocational school Tuesday and the opening of the public school Aug. 23 that concerns school officials.

Last March, all Venice teachers received honorable dismissal notices in a protective gesture used by many school districts in the event certain school programs are not refunded.

Vickers said the Venice district has been told that its application for $74,956 to operate the Title VII basic program has been reduced by $45,000, but the key to rehiring teachers lies in the district's request for $290,170 to finance

Title VII pilot programs.

The school superintendent said he has been informed it may be September before Venice learns what funds, if any, will be available.

Cong. Melvin Price (23rd Illinois) has informed Vickers that there is not adequate money this year to fund all programs, but that Venice is third on the list of eligible districts in Illinois. Chicago schools are first on the list, with the Meridian District in Mounds, Ill. second.

Because of the delay over Title VII financing, Venice school officials are uncertain about the extent of its teacher rehiring for the 1978-79 school year.

'85 goal —degrees for nurses

Registered nurses in Illinois are preparing for future changes in professional nursing.

Many have established educational committees, conducted surveys, enrolled in courses and sought individual educational counseling.

Effective in 1985, the entry point into professional nursing is expected to be at the BSN (bachelor of science in nursing) level. The American Nurses' Association voted this action at its annual convention in Hawaii on June 14.

Though only 15 percent of all registered nurses in the U.S. now have a bachelor's degree, the trend toward increasingly higher professional standards has been apparent for some time, authorities say.

Seminar on compensation

An Illinois State Chamber of Commerce seminar at 9 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 22, at Chicago's Marriott O'Hare Hotel will deal with "Workmen's Compensation Costs." The day-long seminar will be repeated Thursday, Aug. 24 at Augustine's Restaurant in Belleville.

A panel of four experts will offer advice to employers on reducing overall compensation costs. The panelists are Arthur Barbakoff, M.D., medical director, Cook Electric Co., Morton Grove; Alexander White, president, Atlantic Plant Maintenance, Inc., Oak Brook; Robert Joyce, partner, Seyfarth, Shaw, Fairweather and Geraldson, Chicago; and John Kinney, corporate director of fire and safety, Caron International, Inc., Rochelle. Leonard Day, ISCC labor relations manager, will moderate. All are members of ISCC's Workmen's Compensation Committee. In addition, while is former chairman of the Illinois Industrial Commission.

'Gov' seeks area's love

THERE IT IS. SENATOR. Checking to make sure Gov. James Thompson's signature is actually signed to a bill appropriating $641,000 in planning funds for a multi-purpose building at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville as a "banner day" in the history of the university.

this district, co-sponsor of the legislation. Happy about the event is SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw (left). The governor signed the bill in a ceremony in front of the Bubble Gym (in background) on the university campus Thursday afternoon.

THE SHIRT SPEAKS FOR ITSELF. Gov. James Thompson proudly displays a sweatshirt he was presented Thursday afternoon at SIUE by Tom Werner, president of the student government. Werner had been prepared to go to Springfield to give the governor a petition with more than 5,000 signatures, urging him to sign a bill appropriating funds for a multi-purpose physical education building. But when Thompson decided to come to the campus to sign the bill, Werner presented the shirt instead.

Banner day at university; gym will proceed

Thursday, July 27 was described by area legislators and President Kenneth A. Shaw of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville as a "banner day" in the history of the university.

Gov. James R. Thompson visited the university's East St. Louis Center and the main campus to approve two pieces of legislation ranked as of major importance to the future of SIUE—despite the state budget squeeze and growing unrest among taxpayers.

In ceremonies at 2:30 p.m. at the East St. Louis Center, Gov. Thompson signed Senate Bill 1483, permitting the university to complete its purchase of the Broadview Hotel building and resume renovation of the structure for continued use as the university's primary facility in East St. Louis.

At 4 p.m., on the local campus, the governor signed Senate Bill 1506, which appropriates $641,000 to plan a new, permanent, multi-purpose physical education—recreation—athletic facility on the campus.

Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, president of the university, called the governor's actions "the two vital steps necessary for the university to move forward in these crucial areas."

Senate Bill 1483 appropriates $315,000 from SIUE funds to complete the acquisition of the seven-story building, in which the university had begun "branch" operations in 1970.

SIUE has been buying the building on a lease-purchase arrangement with the owner, American Geriatrics Enterprises of St. Louis.

In January, renovation work on the structure was halted because of an Illinois Attorney General's opinion that state funds cannot be used to improve property leased from a private owner.

During the signing ceremonies, attended by legislators, community leaders and members of the university community, Gov. Thompson said: "The legislation allows the university to use its own money, not state funds, to continue remodeling an existing facility that needs renovation."

"I hope my approval of this purchase further signals my commitment to a partnership in East St. Louis between State Community College and SIU at Edwardsville."

"Under the leadership of Presidents Kenneth Shaw and Rosetta Wheadon, they are responding to the full education needs of the people in this community."

Pres. Shaw said, "Acting with understanding and dispatch in approving this bill, Gov. Thompson has effected an immediate and substantial improvement in the quality of life of the students here and the citizens of the community. The public will use a facility significantly upgraded as a result of his action."

"More important, the governor has shown us that the state has not forgotten East St. Louis."

"We are profoundly grateful to him for giving us the chance to show the students in East St. Louis, and all the citizens who make use of our resources, that we are in East St. Louis to stay and that we want to do the best job possible."

Standing outside the Bubble Gym, a temporary, air-inflated fabric structure constructed on the local campus in 1973, Gov. Thompson said the united voice of university officials and students, the support of groups and people from the community action shows the chief executive has a "real appreciation for urgency."

The president said: "With release of the monies that were appropriated last year and this, we can move forward in the designing of a structure that will be realistic and economical and that will meet our long-range needs."

In the 70th General Assembly, Senate Bill 314 appropriated $191,000 for initial planning for the project, but the money had not been released by the governor.

Architects for the project were named in December, when the SIUE Board of Trustees approved appointment of Thompson Associates of Troy and Caudill Rowlett Scott Associate Architects of Houston, Tex.

Appeal for emergency foster parent volunteers

The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services has openings for emergency foster parents to provide short-term care for children and adolescents up to age 18 in Madison County. Regional Resource Development Coordinator Thomas Kircher said today.

"Emergency foster parents keep children from one to 30 days until either a longer-term resource is located, or the children return to their own homes.

"Our emergency homes are our front line," according to Kircher, who is based at the East St. Louis regional office.

"They are asked to accept neglected and abused kids directly from the natural home.

"Many times, we know very little about children who have been removed from their homes, and we ask our emergency foster parents to provide a resource for these youngsters and help us plan for them," Kircher said.

"Emergency homes are expected to accept children on a 24-hour basis.

"Generally, the children's parents will not know where they have been placed, but are allowed to visit them in one of the department's two field offices in Madison County.

"Emergency foster parents are paid up to $170 per month per child to cover board and other expenses, and are paid $100 per month for each emergency space in their home even if the space is empty.

"Children's medical and dental expenses are paid separately.

"Emergency foster parents must be licensed by the state and are provided training and support by the department staff.

"Emergency foster homes are especially needed in Collinsville, Alton, Wood River and the Granite City area," according to Kircher.

Anyone interested in obtaining more information about the department's emergency foster homes program may call one of the following department field offices:

Steele co-chairman of petition campaign

Governor James R. Thompson on Thursday announced the names of 133 elected officials and candidates for public office who are co-chairmen of the petition drive for a referendum on placing a ceiling on taxes and spending on the Nov. 7 ballot.

"The enthusiasm and acceptance by the public of the Thompson proposition has been overwhelming," the governor said.

"With the support of so many public leaders, I know that we can accomplish our goal of at least 625,000 signatures by Aug. 21."

EVERETT G. STEELE

The proposition asks the question: "Shall legislation be enacted and the Illinois Constitution be amended to impose ceilings on taxes and spending by the State of Illinois, units of local government, and school districts?"

Cochairmen include State Rep. Everett G. Steele, Glen Carbon; State Rep. Harold D. Byers, Highland; and Gladys Lewis, Alton, Republican State Senate candidate.

Included as co-chairmen named Thursday are U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy, I.; Governor Dave O'Neal; Attorney General William J. Scott; and Republican candidates Sharon Sharp for secretary of state, James M. Skeelton for state treasurer and John Castle for Illinois comptroller.

More than 250,000 petitions have been distributed throughout Illinois and hundreds of volunteers are working to get the necessary number of signatures to place the question on the ballot, Thompson said.

The referendum is advisory and would serve as a guide for the Illinois General Assembly in considering legislation for a state constitutional amendment that would place limits on taxation and spending by government.

SIUE 'bubbling' over approval of its gymnasium planning funds

Governor James R. Thompson signed legislation late Thursday afternoon to provide $641,000 to plan a new permanent multi-purpose gymnasium building on the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville campus.

Before he signed the bill here, Thompson had received about 5,000 signatures on petitions circulated by SIUE students. Student Body President Tom Werner presented the petitions to Thompson.

"Since it opened its doors, SIUE at Edwardsville has not had a physical education building, only a 'bubble,'" the governor said.

"A permanent facility is needed. My action today clears the way for the new building, which will replace the bubble gym and include areas for health education, physical education and recreation programs."

The governor said the united voice of university officials and students on the campus, the support of groups and people from this region, and the area's legislators convinced him of the need.

Some of the university's needs for physical education, recreation areas are being met with the "bubble," the governor said, but it has numerous deficiencies — including its heating and cooling, inadequate size, and limited life of a few more years.

Signed by Thompson during a ceremony outside the inflatable facility was Senate Bill 1506, introduced in the Senate by Senators Sam Vadalabene, Donnewald, Breese, and sponsored in the House by Rep. Jim McPike, Alton, and Rep. Everett Steele, Glen Carbon.

The legislation appropriates $641,000 to the Capital Development Board to plan a gymnasium building which eventually will cost $12.9 million.

In another action at the site, the governor approved House Bill 2548, which authorizes the Capital Development Board to grant a sewer easement to the Mount Public Water and Sewer District on the Kreitzer School property in Madison County.

The easement will allow the water and sewer district to extend sewer service to about 600 homes which are without it. The bill was introduced by Rep. Joe E. Lucco, Edwardsville, and sponsored in the Senate by Vadalabene.

Gov. Thompson also approved legislation Thursday to permit Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to purchase the old Broadway Hotel building for continued use as the university's center there.

During singing ceremonies for Senate Bill 1483, the governor said:

"The legislation allows the university to use its own money, not state funds, to remodel an existing facility that very much needs renovation."

"I hope my approval of this purchase further signals my commitment to a partnership in the building."

Gov. Thompson also applauded the action of Governor James Thompson in signing Senate Bill 1506, which appropriates $641,000 in planning funds for a permanent physical education-recreation athletic facility at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Speaking at ceremonies on the campus, Sen. Vadalabene made the following remarks: "It's been noted that this is a banner day in the history of the university."

"Well, I certainly can't quarrel with that. Over the years, I have seen many landmark moments in the growth of this great institution. This particular one has a special meaning for me, since this project started over 12 years ago."

"During those years, we have seen plans drawn for a building that could have been built in the late '60s for less than half the price that this one will cost — relatively inexpensive as it will be."

"For a while, we also talked about things like civic centers — to the point that it seems like every area of large population concentration in Illinois is going to have a civic center except this one. Well, I am glad for the other areas, and proud of the part that I played in their success."

"I am especially proud of the vision and foresight that Gov. Thompson has displayed here today."

"If you had watched the development in signing Senate Bill 1506, which appropriates $641,000 in planning funds for a permanent physical education-recreation athletic facility at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, you would understand that he is showing real courage — and an understanding of the needs of the university, and citizens of the region it serves, by signing this bill."

"He deserves a great deal of credit, and I stand ready to give him his full measure of it."

"President Kenneth Shaw and the members of the SIUE community should receive their share of credit for making such a strong case. They were able to master the support of business, labor and all the civic leaders of the area, so this bill could make its way through the Senate and the House."

"Credit must also go to the bipartisan sponsorship of Rep. Jim McPike and Rep. Everett Steele in the House."

"With the release of these funds, and the plans they will provide, this project will reach the point of being ready for construction."

"This is a moment that is the culmination of many long years of strenuous effort. I thank the governor from the bottom of my heart for making this possible, labor and all the civic leaders who helped me in my efforts to see a fine physical education-recreation athletic facility become a reality at SIUE."

Busy weekend for GC baseball, softball teams

Mercers raps Capra; then loses twice

LOCKPORT — Mercers of Granite City won its first game here Saturday in the National Baseball Congress (NBC) State Tournament, but lost its next two and was eliminated from the double-elimination affair.

Saturday, Mercers knocked out former major leaguer Buzz Capra and defeated Ahepa 5-3 Saturday night, the team that eventually won the tournament, the Riverside Rockets, bombed Mercers 12-4. Yesterday, Ahepa came out of the loser's bracket to gain revenge and beat Mercers 8-6 with a late-inning rally.

In Saturday's victory over Ahepa, Mercers came up with three runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to knock out Capra and claim the first-round victory, 5-3.

Ahepa had taken a 1-0 lead in the first inning, but Mercers came up with a run of its own in the second to tie the score 1-1.

In the fifth inning, Jeff Scarborough scored a single run to take a 2-1 lead, only to see Ahepa come back to score twice in the top of the seventh to take a 3-2 lead.

In the bottom of the seventh, Bill Stolte doubled for Mercers off Capra, who was released after last season by the Atlanta Braves, to lead off the inning. Jeff Scarborough bunted him to second and Ken Schaake singled to left to drive in Stolte with the tying run.

Pat Peterson then singled in Scarborough with the go-ahead run. Capra then walked John Urban, and that was all for the former major leaguer. He was lifted for a relief pitcher, Jim Greenwald, the Mercers leftfielder, greeted the new hurler with an RBI single, giving Mercers all the runs it needed for the victory.

"Capra was feeding us a lot of sliders and fastballs," said Mercers shortstop Peterson. "He started getting the ball a little more over the center of the plate than he wanted to in that seventh inning, but basically, he had pretty good stuff."

"But he obviously doesn't have what he did a few years ago when he was the national league earned-run leader."

Saturday night, Mercers ran into a buzz saw in the Riverside Rockets, falling to the eventual state champions, 12-4. Jerry Demit started on the mound for Mercers and pitched until the seventh inning, when he was bombarded by nine Riverside runs.

Riverside had taken a 3-0 lead, but blew the game open in the seventh.

Mercers scored its runs in the eighth and ninth innings. In the eighth, a bases-loaded walk to Peterson which scored Bill Lee and a fielder's choice by John Urban scoring Ken Schaake accounted for the runs.

In the ninth, Jeff Scarborough's bases-loaded double scored Stolte and Scarborough who had earlier singled.

Yesterday, Ahepa, came back out of the loser's bracket to hand Mercers its second loss of the tourney and send the team packing for Granite City, 8-6.

Ahepa came up with two runs in the seventh inning to tie the score and two in the eighth to win the game.

Jerry Logan started on the mound for Mercers and pitched well until the seventh inning when he came out and walked the first three batters he faced. Demit was brought in to relieve and struck out the first batter he faced and got the second to fly out (a sacrifice fly scoring a run). The next Ahepa batter hit the ball to Mercers third baseman Jeff Scarborough, who was playing in place of Urban who had been moved to leftfield in the seventh.

Scarborough threw the ball away, allowing the tying run to score. Joe Picchotta smacked a solo home run leading off the eighth inning for Ahepa off of Demit for the only run the team needed to eliminate Mercers.

Mercers will play three makeup games this week. Tomorrow night, it will face Wood River in a single game at 8 o'clock. Thursday, the team will play Collinsville at 6 o'clock. Saturday, All games will be at Hoppe field in Edwardsville.

There isn't much of it left for the South Lighting Committee

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor
GRANITE CITY — If all the money needed to erect lights at Granite City High School South's baseball and soccer fields were obtained today, would there be enough time left to get them ready for the first soccer game of the season in late August? Maybe, according to Richard Kerch, Vice President of D. Ron Electric of Granite City.

But the prospects don't look good. Kerch, who sat in on one of the early meetings of the lighting fund committee, said that actual erection of the new lights would probably take about two weeks. The only thing which might serve to delay the process would be obtaining the long poles needed.

"The poles would be the biggest problem," said Kerch. "The ones they're talking about will be about 100 feet long and when you try to get poles over 70 feet long, they have to be specially ordered."

"The poles have to come from either Oregon or Washington," he said. "That makes the wait even longer."

According to Kerch, getting the poles also depends on the lumber situation in the Pacific Northwest. It all depends on what their situation is out there," he said. "We might get them right away, but we might have to wait quite a while for them."

According to Kerch, the lights which will be used at the sports complex, if and when they are erected, will be of the Metal Halide variety, putting out 1500 watts of power each. The exact number of lights being used on each pole will depend on which sport (baseball or soccer) is being played.

"It's a rather unusual approach," said Kerch. "The number of lights in use will be determined by a computer readout and different lights will be punched on or off for each sport."

Another thing which might hold back erection of the lights would be the bidding which will go on for the project after money has been obtained.

According to Conrad "Babe" Champion, head baseball coach at South, the ideal height for lights would be around 100 to 115 feet. "A good example of good lighting is the football field at South," he said. "With lights that high, chances are slim that you're ever going to have a baseball get in the lights during a night game and cause the fielder to lose it and thus an error."

Champion said that for a pole 100 feet tall, 15 feet is needed to be under the ground to provide a base 100 foot pole 85 feet above the ground.

"Cahokia and Belleville made the mistake of putting up lights which are too short," said Champion. "It's not impossible to play under them, but the ball is constantly getting in the lights and causing mistakes. Other projects for the South Boosters include putting in under-the-ground dugouts, a new press box and a new parking lot around the complex, but the lighting is the main concern at present.

"We'll have a few money-making projects this fall," said South Booster Club President Franz Feigl. "But right now, it's sort of a slow time of the year for things like that."

The South Boosters originally approached the School Board with the idea of having a drive to erect the lights, but the board said it would only OK the plans if a separate lighting fund was formed and conducted through the school board.

Warren Decatur of Granite City was chosen as chairman of the lighting fund committee.

K-State on SIUE's cage schedule

EDWARDSVILLE

Powerful Kansas State University has been added to the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville 1978-79 cage schedule, bringing the Cougars' cage slate up to the 27 games permitted by the NCAA.

Coach Jim Dudley's SIUE team will play Coach Jack Hartman's Kansas State Wildcats Thursday night, Dec. 14, at Manhattan, Kan., in game starting at 7:30 p.m. It will be the first meeting of the two basketball teams. Hartman coached at SIU-Carbondale from 1962 through '69 before taking over at Manhattan.

Under Hartman, the Wildcats have always been a leading contender in the prestigious Big Eight Conference race. Last season, Kansas State finished second to their arch rivals, Kansas University, in league competition.

Eldon (Ed) Bigham, chairman of the SIUE Intercollegiate Athletic Council and acting athletic director, made the announcement of the addition of the Kansas State U. game to the Cougars' schedule. Bigham played his junior and senior years for Hartman at SIU-Carbondale.

Dudley's charges face an extremely tough schedule. They'll open against an NCAA southern power, the University of North Alabama at Mobile, Nov. 25.

Other NCAA Division I schools on the Cougars' schedule are the University of Nevada-Reno, University of Wyoming, University of Northern Colorado, St. Louis University.

Busy August for Chimega

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's cougar mascot, Chimega will appear in three parades — two at the Illinois State Fair, including the opening day parade, and a Fairview Heights Homecoming Association parade.

The opening day parade at the state fair is scheduled Thursday, Aug. 10, at 9:30 a.m. The parade route is two and one-fourth miles long and will run through downtown Springfield to Washington Street.

Chimega also will appear in the fair's Aug. 11 parade, beginning at 2 p.m. This parade will run along the same route.

Theme of the state fair parades is "It's a Small World." There will be 125 units participating.

Chimega will ride in a trailer, accompanied by six Cougar Guard members. The Cougar Guard is a volunteer student organization on the SIUE campus, responsible for the general care of the big cat.

"There are a lot of stories I could tell about Chimega and her trips away from the campus," Paige St. John, treasurer of the Cougar Guard, said. "Like the time a motel maid came into the room without knowing a cougar was in there. She dropped all her linen."

According to Miss St. John, Chimega had an eventful trip to the fair last year. The guard had forewarned the motel personnel of a cougar, but the personnel misunderstood it to be a car. The cat and her friends were dismissed from the motel.

The group found a motel that would allow the cougar to stay. Two adjoining rooms were rented, with Chimega getting one to herself.

On Saturday, Aug. 5, Chimega will travel to Fairview Heights for the homecoming parade. The two-mile event will begin at 2 p.m. at City Hall 10025 Bunkum Road, and end at Longacre Park.

The six-foot-long, 100-pound cougar celebrated her 10th birthday this year. The cat makes guest appearances at various events during the year, including SIUE soccer and basketball games and area church schools.

CHIMEGA, mascot of the SIUE Cougars.

anyone wishing to take part in the tournament should come to Arlington Golf Course here Saturday and Sunday Aug. 5 and 6.

The proceeds from the tournament are used each year for various community-oriented projects in the Granite City area. All proceeds from the tournament will be put back into the community.

According to Bill Fever, one of the tournament organizers,

Tickets for the event are priced at $1 each and may be purchased at the course if not already bought.

Some of the projects the Kiwanis donated proceeds from the tournament to are: sending six Granite City crippled children to the Crippled Children's Camp later this year at Little Grassy Lake near Carbondale, sending two needy Boy Scouts to Camp Sunnen, donations to the Downtown Restoration Society along with many other projects.

Mercers juniors win twice; play Macon, Ga. today in tourney

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — The Mercers Junior baseball team of 15 and 16-year old boys is alive and well in the National Baseball Congress (NBC) National Tournament being held this week here with 32 teams participating.

Saturday, the Granite City team defeated the representatives from Cincinnati, Ohio 12-1. Steve Doty was the winning pitcher for Mercers and Greg Faulkner came on in relief in the late innings.

Yesterday, after nearly a four-hour rain delay, Mercers cruised to a 16-3 victory over another team from Illinois, Joliet West. Bob Batey was the winning pitcher, with Mike Robertson coming on in relief.

Pitching was only part of what Robertson contributed to the winning effort. He also hammered two home runs, Richard Coe, Batey, and Jay Borchers each hit one home run for Mercers.

Today, Mercers was to have played Macon, Ga. at 2 p.m., weather permitting. Heavy rains have delayed the Louisville area the past weekend, and field conditions are a constant question-mark.

If successful against Macon, Mercers will play tonight in a semi-final game. The championship contest will be played tomorrow night.

The tournament is a single-elimination affair.

I Bet You Didn't Know BROUGHT TO YOU BY MILTON MATHEWS

Here's an oddity Although the New York Yankees won the world championship of baseball last season, NONE of their players led the league in ANY major category. For example, Rod Carew of Minnesota led the league in hitting, Larry Hise of Minnesota led in runs batted in, Jim Rice of Boston led in homers, Fred Patek of Kansas City led in stolen bases, Frank Tanana of California led in earned run average, and no Yankee pitcher won 20 games — yet the Yanks still won the pennant and World Series.

Here's a believe-it-or-not from baseball. Big league player Rico Carty once hit TWO home runs in ONE time at bat! . . . In a game a few years ago, Carty hit a pitch over the left field wall for a homer, but the umpire ruled that time had been called just as the pitch was on its way. So Carty stepped back into the batter's box, the pitcher threw again, and Carty hit one over the left field wall again — in the same time at bat.

How many miles per gallon do automobiles get in races like the Indianapolis-500? . . . In this year's Indianapolis race, winning driver Al Unser got just 1.8 miles per gallon of fuel. . . . Most other cars did even do that well, averaging about 1.5 miles per gallon.

Political leaders favor a regional primary system

By AL MANNING
SPRINGFIELD — Illinois political leaders favor some type of regional primary system to nominate candidates for president, but they are not optimistic about the Congress approving any such plan.

A regional primary is one type of change being considered.

One reason they are not hopeful is because no such legislation has passed Congress this century. According to the "Federalization of Presidential Primaries" by Austin Ranney, no bill has even come close to passage. There's a political reason working against any change, too.

Some persons think any attempt to change the system would be interpreted as a slap at President Carter because Mr. Carter successfully worked the primary system in order to win the nomination.

Proponents of change would undoubtedly have had a stronger supporter in Walter Mondale — had Mr. Carter not chosen him for vice president.

Mondale, as you recall, dropped out of contention for the Democratic presidential nomination early because he said the system put more emphasis on physical stamina and travel than it did on serious discussion of national issues.

Of course, the same system then nominated him for vice president, so how can he and his supporters quarrel with the system?

U.S. Rep. John Anderson, R-Rockford, favors change, but he says the farther the nation gets away from the last election the less likely change will be made.

"Inertia overtakes us," Anderson said. "The attitude is 'We survived once more' so the enthusiasm for the change dies away."

Anderson is opposed to a single national primary because he says it would be too expensive. He thinks a regional primary would cut campaign costs and be a more rational system than the present one.

Anderson says any proposed change would not affect his decision to seek his party's presidential nomination. He is thinking about running for the GOP nomination as a representative of the party's moderate wing.

Gov. James Thompson, speaking as a party leader (as opposed to a potential candidate), also endorsed the regional concept.

"The regional primary is appealing," he said. "What we expect candidates to do now is extraordinary."

There are rational regional groupings, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and Missouri share enough common characteristics to make it practical, I would like to see it looked at."

U.S. Rep. Paul Simon, D-Carbondale, who was the unofficial leader of the movement to draft the late Hubert Humphrey last time, said:

"I don't know precisely what to do. I think we ought to either limit the primaries by region or limit the number of primaries any one candidate can get into — and there's a legal question about that."

"I am not in favor of a national primary because it would produce candidates from the extremes, either from the far left or the far right."

Alex Scully, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate who has worked on delegate selection rules for years, favors a regional system whereby states would be given a two-week period to choose delegates, either by primary or caucus.

"You could rotate the region so one section of the country does not always come first," he said. "It would help with television costs and travel time. I'm opposed to a national primary because it would destroy the parties."

U.S. Sen. Adlai Stevenson, a strong critic of the present system, says a change would force candidates to discuss national issues rather than spend their time kissing babies.

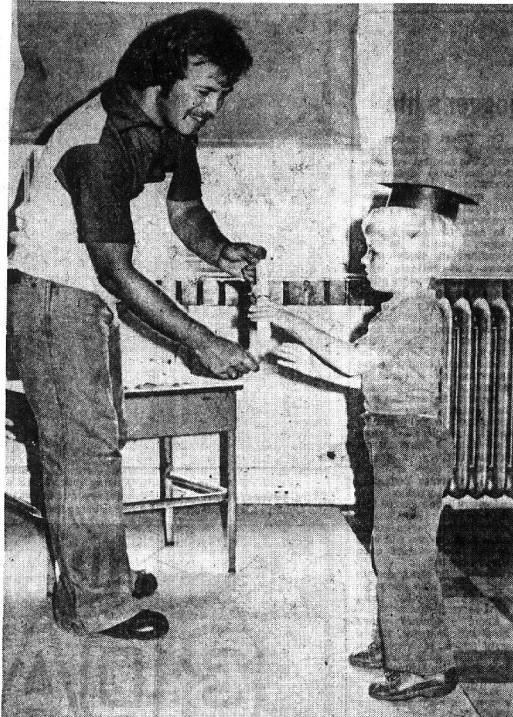

Stevenson suggests a plan whereby delegates would be elected on a regional basis to a national convention, then at the convention the delegates would select two or three candidates for a national primary.

"This would give the party people some role in the process," he says. "If all the ballots are cast in the same day, there is no opportunity to size up the candidates. We need a middle ground, and the regional system fills that."

Any change in the primary system, of course, would tend to favor certain kinds of candidates over others, just like the present system helps an unknown challenger whom the media says does well in New Hampshire.

A national primary would certainly favor an incumbent president and any well-known candidate over any obscure candidate. For example, it's extremely unlikely Mr. Carter would have received many votes at all in a national primary.

Thompson, likewise, would face an uphill battle in a national primary against the likes of Ronald Reagan or former President Ford. But in a regional primary, where Thompson could focus his time and money, he could be assisted by a new system.

Running a risk? Test may save jogger's life

Waldo Gayden, a middle-aged San Diego, Calif., engineer, looked at his life about 18 months ago and — like a lot of men in midlife — decided he needed to change. He was, at 53, at least 25 pounds overweight. He suffered from high blood pressure. He was deeply saddened over the recent cancer death of his 25-year-old son, Waldo Jr.

He was, according to his wife, Virginia, under extreme stress in his job. Gayden decided to get in shape. He consulted his doctor and took up a physical-fitness program. He began sensibly. His wife walked with him when he first began. Then he built up slowly to jogging, and Virginia, disabled by an automobile accident, dropped out. For many people, such slow, reasoned starts toward physical conditioning are terrific.

But for Waldo Gayden it may have contributed to his death.

On April 19, Gayden was cooling down from his early morning walking and jogging over his usual 1.5-mile course when he suddenly dropped dead, with the resuscitation efforts of a passerby to no avail.

Coronary failure complicated by hypertension was the cause of death, according to Gayden's personal physician.

Complicated further perhaps by jogging? It's the sort of question that plagues joggers every time one of their fellow runners dies — and it's the sort of question that nags those who are considering taking up the sport.

Was Gayden's death a freak occurrence? Or can it happen to any jogger — even those who seemingly are in good condition? Is jogging really good for your health or hazardous? How can a jogger know if he is a heart attack candidate? And Virginia Gayden wonders now if the exercise her husband undertook to improve his health actually undermined it.

"Not necessarily," says Dr. John Boyer, San Diego cardiologist, director of the Alvarado Community Hospital Cardiac Rehabilitation Program and president of the American College of Sports Medicine. "Like any other exercise, it depends both on your state of health when you begin and the regimen you set up."

Investigation shows that Gayden had begun jogging the sensible way by building up gradually. But it also shows that the engineer, overweight, with high blood pressure and overwrought because of his son's death — a certain profile. It is the profile, some doctors say, of a runner who could die.

But despite Gayden's high-risk profile, he had not taken a key life-saving test which cardiologists recommend for runners who fit the risk profile — and for other runners, too. It's called the electrocardiogram exercise stress test, and doctors use it to show a patient how much exercise his heart can tolerate.

Cardiologists do not necessarily bar from running people like Gayden who fit the high-risk profile. But they do recommend added caution, and that caution may include the stress test, a physical examination and supervised exercise.

In Gayden's particular case, some doctors interviewed have suggested, his extreme fatigue after running on the Monday before his death should have served as a warning sign.

But runners have died before while running. And supporters of jogging point out that the occasional collapse and death of a jogger does not necessarily mean the sport is dangerous.

Dr. Albert Grodner, a cardiologist, says there is no conclusive medical evidence that inactivity definitely causes heart attacks, nor for that matter that exercise indisputably prevents coronaries.

In fact, Grodner, also a jogger, points to a Scandinavian study that shows that patients who exercised for two years after a heart attack did not have a significantly lower recurrence of heart attacks. But although runners have died before, Runners World magazine reports that the odds against health problems occurring as a result of running are 100,000 to one.

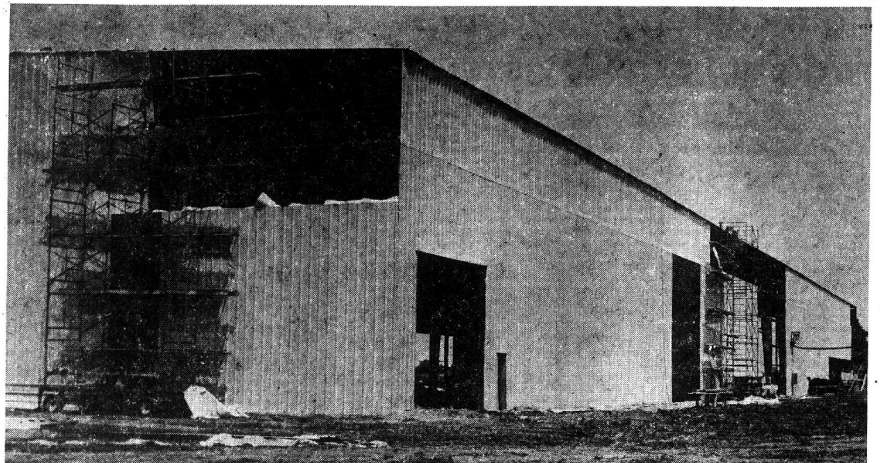

Boyer thinks exercise is so important that he's developed a program in which 75 people, all of whom had either a heart attack, bypass surgery or angina (spasms of chest or throat pain), exercise regularly under his supervision. Doctors have reported that high-cholesterol diets lead to closure of the arteries, and no amount of running will fully reopen the arteries once they're clogged.

Running by itself, doctors say, neither kills nor gives absolute protection from fatal heart disease.

Some doctors are convinced, however, that a combination of vegetarian diet and running offers the best protection against heart disease.

But before a potential runner laces up those new track shoes and bundles into the new color-coordinated warm-up suit, there are a few important facts to be known about the relationship of exercise and heart attacks.

Cardiologists are convinced that in order to understand what quantity of exercise is good for you, an exercise electrocardiogram stress test is essential. They advise stress tests for any man over 40 who wants to initiate a new physical-fitness regimen.

New version of beach freak films

"Jaws 2" (PG) — The dirty old shark is back again, tooting sailboats for a loop, crunching down on Coast Guard helicopters and gulping down scuba divers, water skiers and beach freaks. Many of the same stars who graced Jaws 1 are aboard again, including Roy Scheider as the harried police chief and Lorraine Gary as his supportive wife. But the original Jaws must have been a tough act to follow, because Jaws 2, somehow doesn't measure up. The disaster scenes are realistic enough, but maybe that's the trouble. How many hours of man-eating shark can you take?

Miss Karen Perkins and James Stoll are wed

The wedding of Miss Karen Perkins, a daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. E. Leo Perkins, 1294 Clay St., Henderson, Ky., formerly of Granite City, and James Stoll Jr., also of Henderson, Ky., was solemnized on June 2, at the Henderson General Baptist Church.

A blue and white background accented with green palms and burning tapers in double candleabra provided the setting for the double ring ceremony at 7:30 in the evening, performed by the bride's father.

Nuptial selections included "Sunrise, Sunset," "Wedding Song," "One Hand, One Heart," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Parents of the groom are Mrs. Darlene Stoll of Washington, Ind., and James Stoll Sr., of Hausstadt, Ind.

For her wedding the bride wore a formal gown of white organza designed with a scallop Chantilly lace high neckline, bishop sleeves and a full skirt with lace motifs, which also marked the Empire waistline.

Lace appliques accented the bouffant skirt hemmed with a gathered flounce that created the cathedral train.

Her bridal veil of illusion was attached to a lace Juliet cap, etched with pearls, and she held a colonial bouquet of white silk roses, blue silk daisies, blue baby's breath and tied with a blue ribbon.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Kathy Perkins, a sister-in-law of the bride. She chose a blue Quana gown made with a V-neck bodice of blue Chantilly lace and complimented with a matching cape.

Bridesmaids were Miss

Tracy Perkins, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Julie Stoll, the groom's sister.

They selected formal length dresses in blue polyester with attached capes and high necklines, trimmed with lace and a ruffle at the hemline.

Each attendant held an arrangement of silk flowers including blue daisies and greenery and festooned with white ribbons, with the exception of Miss Stoll who held a white basket of rose petals.

The groom chose Ken Perkins, a brother of the bride, as best man. Joe Stoll and Jack Stoll, brothers of the groom and Bill Blackburn, served as groomsmen and ushers.

Christy Dickerman was the flower girl and ringbearer was Gregory Dickerman. She was dressed in a blue dotted Swiss frock featuring puff sleeves and a skirt of tiered ruffles. She also carried a basket of blue silk daisies.

Both the rehearsal dinner and reception after the service was held in the church social room.

The former of Perkins attended Oakland City College in Indiana for two years and is now employed by the City of Henderson, finance department.

Her husband received an associate degree in auto diesel technology at the 1977 graduation exercises of Oakland City College and is now working for Big Rivers Electrical Corp., Sebrree, Ky.

They are residing in Henderson, Ky., following a wedding trip to Audubon State Park.

Poore-Barbieri wedding at St. Elizabeth Church

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Patricia Marie Barbieri, a daughter of Joseph J. Barbieri, 2142 Batterman Ave., and Jerry Ray Poore, a son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Poore, 2305 Edison Ave., after afternoon ceremony on June 3, at St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church.

Nuptial selections included "Sunrise, Sunset," "Lady," "If," and "The Wedding Song."

Candlelight illuminated the sanctuary and urn holding arrangements of roses and carnations decorated the altar for the 2 o'clock service performed by Father Kenneth Becker.

Burning tapers in brass aisle standards, festooned with satin bows, marked each side of the white carpeted aisle.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a formal length white organza and Venice lace gown complemented with a lace bordered mantilla veil held in place with a pearl lace Juliet cap.

The scoop neckline, bodice and short caplet sleeves were accented with French Venice lace. The Empire waistline was enhanced with a silhouette skirt which fell gracefully to the floor and was encircled with lace motifs at the hemline and edge of the cathedral train.

Her bouquet, arranged in a colonial style included apricot carnations, roses, baby's breath and variegated foliage, centered in Chantilly lace.

Mrs. Barbara Moser, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Lucia Suedkamp, another sister of the bride, Mrs. Debbie Barbieri, the bride's sister-in-law and Mrs. Terry Solberger, the groom's sister.

They selected matching gowns in apricot jersey knit fashioned with short sleeves and Queen Anne necklines, traced with Venice lace and accented pleated skirts.

Each attendant wore a ring of baby's breath in her hair and held a colonial bouquet of apricot carnations, roses and baby's breath with greenery.

The groom chose Jesse Brake as best man. Denny Solberger, the groom's brother-in-law, Robert Carson and Steven Hurt, served as groomsmen and ushers.

Guests were received by the newlyweds at a reception given at Croatian Home in Madison. Members of the bridal party were entertained at a rehearsal dinner served at Charlie's Restaurant.

The bride is a 1975 graduate of Granite City High School North, and the groom was graduated from South High School. He attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for three years and is now manager of Arby's Restaurant in Colorado Springs, Colo., where they will make their home.

TRIPLE RINSE FOR CHEMICAL CONTAINERS
By RON CORNWELL
County Farm Adviser
A problem that faces Madison County farmers each year is what to do with empty agriculture chemical containers.
If containers contain chemicals or small amounts of residue, a sanitary landfill cannot accept them for disposal unless the landfill has applied for a special Illinois Environmental Protection Agency permit.
Any landfill can accept chemical containers if farmers follow two steps before taking the containers to the landfill. First, the containers or cans must be triple rinsed at the time of emptying. Second, the container cap must be removed or the containers punctured.

Reagan, Ford may help petition drive in Illinois

Illinois Republicans are making a massive effort to give the state's voters a chance to demand a lid on taxes.
Tens of thousands of petitions calling for a special tax-ceiling ballot in the November election are being circulated, according to Illinois GOP Chairman Don W. Adams.
"This is probably the biggest undertaking of the party in many years."
More than 5,000 precinct workers and other thousands of volunteers are at work gathering signatures, he said.
"The Thompson proposition is clearly favored by the overwhelming majority of voters, but the Aug. 21 deadline demands massive action in a hurry."

"We intend to get the job done successfully, because the proposition reflects bed-rock Republican principles as well as the deep-seated concern and resentment of voters over runaway government spending."

On the ballot, Illinois voters would be asked if they want new legislation and an amendment to the state constitution to put a cap on state, local and school district spending. Adams continued:

"We also are making a major effort to get the Illinois Republican exhibit to obtain signatures on the petitions. A slide show running continuously during the fair will be included in our petition-signing program there."

The efforts in Illinois are in line with a national GOP drive to provide significant tax relief for all Americans.

The Roth-Kemp bill in Congress would reduce individual income taxes by one-third over a three-year period.

"The Republican National Committee has launched a major program to gain public support for this far-reaching tax-relief legislation, and will send 'blitz' teams of leading GOP spokesmen across the country to publicize the measure."

Former President Gerald Ford and President Reagan are being considered for the Illinois leg of the blitz, according to Adams.

The teams will hold news conferences, give out literature at commuter train stations, and make other public appeals in support of the Republican tax relief measures. Adams summed up:

"The historic Republican position of lower taxes and less government is becoming the position of the average American."

"I'm confident, therefore, that our efforts here in Illinois and elsewhere on the taxpayers' behalf will be successful."

Petitions with the necessary 625,000 signatures must be filed with the State Board of Elections by the Aug. 21 deadline.

Bi-State Executive Director Barry M. Locke announced the money will be used to aid in buying a boat from the St. Louis Metropolitan Sewer District and converting it into a viable firefighting and rescue vessel.

Bi-State Development Agency, as the regional port coordinator, has previously cooperated with authorities in other efforts to safeguard the river area, which at the present time has no fireboat.

Funds pledged by the agency board constitute more than half of the $37,000 cost of the project, and were obtained through the sale of the Percy Ferry and inoperative fireboat owned by Bi-State.

The MSD vessel was a water sampling boat used in the early 1970s. It is 31 feet in length and 10 feet in width and is powered by a 187-horsepower diesel engine.

Pumping equipment to be installed on the boat will pump 1,000 gallons of water per minute, throwing a stream of water 125 feet. The fireboat will also have the capability of using foam to fight any fire.

St. Louis City firemen will operate the boat under the direction of the City of St. Louis Port Authority. Mutual aid agreements are expected to permit the fireboat to assist in firefighting operations in any of six port districts that comprise the Port of Metropolitan St. Louis.

For her wedding, the former Miss Little chose an imported chiffonette gown accented with silk Venice lace fashioned in a Grecian style. The square neckline was traced with Venice lace and motifs etched with seed pearls were appliqued on the bodice and full sleeves which were cuffed tightly at the wrists with matching lace.

Her pearl and lace camelot headpiece was attached to a waltz length veil, bordered in Venice lace. She carried a nosegay arrangement of yellow roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and fern tied with yellow satin streamers.

Record crop insurance is seen in '78

After a year in which nature has handed out everything from excessive moisture to drought, growing ranks of Illinois farmers are deciding that the best thing they can do about the weather is carry insurance against it.

Federal Crop Insurance District Director for Southwestern Illinois, Don Rathbun, predicts that the dollar amount of insurance carried on Illinois crops this year will be at an all-time high.

There also has been an increase in dollar protection to help offset the increase cost of production.

Deadline to apply for coverage on the 1979 wheat crop is Sept. 30.

The protection, currently offered in Illinois counties, covers all-risk protection that covers every unavoidable cause of loss.

Each insured farmer is guaranteed a yield per acre designed to cover his major costs of production. When his crop is damaged or destroyed, he is paid an indemnity for each bushel it falls short of the guaranteed yield.

Although the primary reason for carrying insurance is the protection it provides against crop disasters that can strike in any year, Rathbun reports that more and more farmers are realizing benefits in good crop years, too.

For example, every federal crop insurance policy can be pledged as loan collateral. Farmers participating in forward contracting or hedging can be assured at harvest time that they will have either a crop or cash to fulfill their commitments.

Rathbun continued, "Many farmers are approaching retirement find that the protection helps them maintain their earnings for retiring purposes."

"Illinois farmers are realizing that all-risk insurance is a useful management tool. One of the most important skills in farming today is good management."

"Time does not allow FCIC representatives to call on all producers in all communities, they may contact the local office in Breese, Ill., prior to Sept. 30."

SKY-HIGH PROGRAM. Five planes performing as one, the Thunderbird Stinger provides an example of precision formation flying. The Thunderbirds airshow and a variety of other events are planned for the Scott Air Force Base open house on Sunday.

Scott Base open house

Civilians, young and old, will be welcomed to see a variety of military performances, exhibits and equipment when the gates are opened at 10 a.m. Sunday for the Scott Air Force Base annual "open house."

The day's activities will end at 4:30 p.m. Scott is located near Belleville.

With jet engines screaming, the red, white and blue T-38 Talon aircraft flown by members of the U.S. Air Force Demonstration Team—the "Thunderbirds"—will highlight the day's activities.

Following a takeoff ceremony at 3 p.m. Sunday, the Thunderbirds are set to demonstrate exactly timed, closely spaced and intricately flown aerial maneuvers—some at speeds over 700 miles per hour and as little as 30 feet above the ground.

Aircraft will be displayed on the flightline for people to walk through and talk to crew members who fly them. These will include: the C-5 Galaxy, world's largest cargo-carrying aircraft; the C-141 Starlifter, which can be teamed with the C-5 to airlift fully equipped and combat ready divisions to any point in the world on short notice.

Also, the C-9 Nightingale, the Air Force's "flying hospital"; U.S. Army and Marine Corps aircraft; and a variety of civilian experimental and antique aircraft. For the small-airplane enthusiast, radio-controlled airplane demonstrations by the Spirits of St. Louis and Belleville Flyers are scheduled for the morning and afternoon.

Colonel Elmer Gyerman (USAF, Retired) will exhibit his extensive model airplane collection. He is said to own one of the largest model airplane collections anywhere. Military working dogs, handled by members of the Scott Security Police, are to demonstrate their roles in assisting in police work at 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Narcotics and explosives detection, tracking, apprehension and a run through the obstacle course (physical exercise) are some of the duties Scott's canine members are trained to do.

The Galaxy Twirlers square dance club is slated to perform throughout the day. Members of this club perform regularly in communities around Scott. The Air Force Band of Mid-America, assigned to Scott, plans to provide musical entertainment during the day. A concert called "Sound Odyssey" is scheduled for 11 a.m.

Hangar One on the flightline will house a myriad of exhibit booths, each with Scott military members and civilian employees who will provide information and answer questions. Among those setting up booths will be the Aeronautical Historical Society of St. Louis.

Arrest driver, 5 passengers

Four men and two women were arrested at 12:35 a.m. Sunday at Madison and Niedringhaus avenues when police stopped their car and alleged they found four open cans of beer in the car.

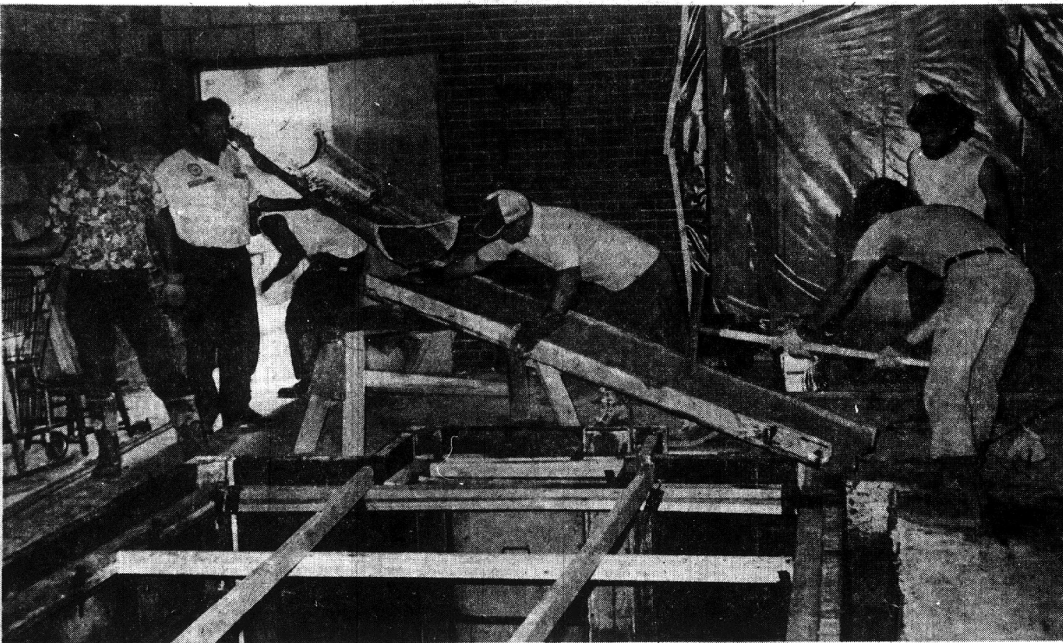

The driver, identified as Tammy Morgan, 17, Florissant, Mo., was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol, disorderly conduct and unlawful use of a driver's license.

Police said the latter charge was added after the group was taken to the police station and Tammy Morgan gave them a driver's license belonging to a girl friend and attempted to identify herself as the owner of the license.

Officers said they saw the car at 24th Street and Madison Avenue, allegedly operated in a reckless manner. They gave chase and stopped the car at Niedringhaus Avenue.

Charges of illegal possession of alcohol were filed against Wayne Graham, 22, St. Louis; Darryl Gettinger, 19, Hazelwood, Mo.; Kenneth Wilkenring, 19, St. Joseph; Nicholas Thomas, 23, Overland, Mo.; and Madonna Malone, 24, Florissant.

Boy questioned in CB radio thefts

A juvenile boy is being questioned by police in burglaries involving the theft of a CB radio from a truck and the theft of a CB base station unit from a home in the 2700 block of Myrtle Avenue.

Police said the boy was picked up by police after he attempted to sell the CB radio to an acquaintance of his father.

Theft of the CB radio was reported by Pat Pryor, 2805 Edwards St., after a neighbor told Pryor he had seen a youth remove the unit from Pryor's truck parked in his driveway.

A short time later police were called to the home of Sherry Hutchins, 2700 Myrtle Ave., which had been burglarized of a CB base unit. Police were told a neighbor had seen a boy about 14 or 15 enter the house through a window and come out the same way with the radio unit.

Raise for library workers is budget issue at Venice

A special aldermanic committee will be appointed by Venice Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold to discuss with the Venice Library Board "several problems" which city officials say have arisen, including the handling of appropriations for salary increases for library employees.

Several Venice aldermen criticized the Library Board during a special City Council meeting Thursday night, alleging that salary increases provided by the city in the 1977-78 budget last year were kept at a minimum of $10 per month for each employee instead of the amount budgeted for higher salaries.

The city's new budget of $1,241,218, including an appropriation for the public library of $63,210, was approved by the council in the special meeting Thursday.

During the budget discussion, Alderman John Ervin asked why the library employees did not receive the amount budgeted for salary increases last year.

Alderman Tyrone Echols said, "The library has a surplus in the budget from last year. Those people (library workers) were insured when they were offered a $10 raise. We budgeted more than that."

City Attorney Harry Hartman said, "This year their budget is $63,210 which is an increase of $200 over the previous budget. For the 1977-78 year, we budgeted $62,890 which was a $4,000 raise. The board did not submit to the council or the city a suggested budget for 1978-79 so the 1978-79 budget is based this year on the 1977-78 budget."

After further discussion on appointment and the responsibilities of Library Board members, Mayor Ebersold said, "We have a council meeting next Tuesday and I will name an aldermanic special committee to meet with the Library Board and see if we can't get some of these problems resolved."

Under the 1978-79 budget, all full-time city employees will receive a $70 per month raise. No raises were granted part-time employees.

All city officers are taking an 8% cut in expenses and the mayor took a $200 month reduction in expense money.

The new budget is $127,444 less than the 1977-78 budget.

Prior to the council meeting a public hearing on the Federal Revenue Sharing Funds was held.

The council approved the $200,910 expenditures which then becomes a part of the city budget.

An earlier public hearing on Federal Revenue Sharing Funds was held on July 10 and both budgets, in detail, have been posted in the city hall for inspection since July 14.

INTERRELATING ART. What appears to be window painting has a much deeper meaning for Janice Janek of Granite City. A student teacher, she was a participating two-week pilot workshop at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for interrelating the arts in education. Specialties of the workshop included sessions in speech communication, creative drama, music, art and movement.

2 boys held New students to register in GC

Two boys, 15 and 16 years of age, are being held pending the filing of robbery charges under the juvenile code as the result of an incident at 2:15 a.m. Sunday in which a young man was robbed of his wallet while he was walking with the boys at Johnson Road and Terrace Lane.

Murphy told police that he had become involved in an argument with the boys at the Jack-in-the-Box restaurant because they were verbally harassing him. They resolved their differences, however, and left the restaurant together, Murphy related.

Near Johnson Road and Terrace Lane, one of the boys picked up a rock and told Murphy, "You've got three seconds to give me ten bucks before I hit you," Murphy told police.

Murphy said he took out his wallet and gave the youth a $10 bill. As he did so, the other boy grabbed his wallet from his hand and both ran. Murphy said he chased them to Johnson and Carlson where he lost them. Murphy called police.

Officers enroute to the area reported they saw two boys at the Jack-in-the-Box restaurant and apprehended them. The boys took them to where they had thrown away the wallet and the money when they saw the police officers.

The two boys were charged with a statutory violation and transported to the County Detention Home pending the filing of the robbery charges, police said.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to law in such case made and provided, public notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendments to the Illinois Constitution will be submitted on a separate blue ballot to the voters of the State of Illinois for adoption or rejection at the General Election to be held on November 7, 1978.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 5 OF ARTICLE IX

Section 5. PERSONAL PROPERTY TAXATION.

(a) The General Assembly by law may classify personal property for purposes of taxation by valuation, shall such taxes on any or all classes and authorize the levy of taxes in lieu of the taxation of personal property by units of local government.

(b) Any ad valorem personal property tax abolished on or before the effective date of this Constitution shall not be reinstated.

(c) The General Assembly by law may abolish all ad valorem personal property taxes and concurrently therewith and thereafter shall replace all revenue lost by units of local government and school districts as a result of the abolition of ad valorem personal property taxes subsequent to January 2, 1971. Such revenue shall be replaced by imposing state-wide taxes, other than ad valorem taxes on real estate, solely on those classes of property the burden of paying ad valorem personal property taxes because of the abolition of such taxes subsequent to January 2, 1971. If any taxes imposed for such replacement purposes are taxes on or measured by income, such replacement taxes shall not be considered for purposes of the limitations of one tax and the ratio of 8 to 5 set forth in Section 3(a) of this Article.

SCHEDULE

The foregoing Amendment to Section 5 of Article IX of the Constitution takes effect upon its adoption by the voters of this State.

FORM OF BALLOT

The proposed amendment to Article IX will appear upon the constitution ballot in the following form:

AMENDMENT TO SECTION 5 OF ARTICLE IX

(Personal Property Tax)

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT

The personal property tax now is imposed on corporations, partnerships and trusts, and any replacement taxes must be imposed on them. Individuals have been exempt from the personal property tax since 1971, and replacement taxes may not be imposed on them.

Article IX, Section 5(c) of the Illinois Constitution now requires that the legislature abolish all personal property taxes on or before January 1, 1979 and simultaneously replace the abolished taxes with new taxes sufficient to replace revenues lost by local governments and school districts.

The proposed Constitutional Amendment eliminates the January 1, 1979 date for abolition and replacement of the tax. Further, the proposed Amendment makes permissive, rather than mandatory, the requirement that the legislature abolish the tax. This Amendment does not change the requirement for replacing the personal property tax in the event the legislature abolishes it.

Robert Lewis, 21, Hazelwood, Mo., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital after the disturbance with severe cuts to the right side of his head and to his right arm.

Witnesses alleged Lewis was beaten by a bouncer at the lounge. Police took statements arguing over $1 the bouncer allegedly grabbed Lewis, threw him to the ground, grabbed Lewis' hair with both hands and beat his head hard on the concrete several times.

The witnesses alleged the bouncer then got up and kicked Lewis' head several times and ran back into the lounge.

When officers arrived, a Granite City ambulance, which had picked up Lewis, was being detained by what police called an angry crowd. Police cleared a path and the ambulance left for the hospital.

Police then talked to several witnesses and went to the door to the lounge to talk to the operators. Officers said the door was locked and four men inside refused to open it, saying "We're closed."

The officer then took the liquor license of the establishment from behind the bar and the manager, Frank Geoppo, agreed to follow police to the police station.

He was questioned there and was released. Police noted the liquor license of the lounge showed an expiration date of May 1, 1978.

The incident was referred to Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, who is the city's liquor control commissioner. Efforts to locate the bouncer were continuing today.

RUBIN MOTORCYCLE Mrs. Rhonda Wallace, 22, of 2216 Edwards St., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 11 p.m. Sunday with injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident. She first was treated at Oliver C. Anderson Memorial Hospital in Maryville about 8 p.m. Sunday and was transferred here. Injuries include multiple abrasions to her legs and shoulders.

Steals stereo set, then returns it

A young burglar apparently changed his mind after burglarizing the home of Larry Burgan, 2217 Washington Ave., and returned a stereo he had just stolen Sunday afternoon.

A neighbor reported that between 2 and 4 p.m. yesterday, he saw a youth behind Burgan's home holding a stereo wrapped in a raincoat. It is believed the young man saw the witness and decided to return the stereo.

Burgan discovered all the wires to the stereo components had been disconnected, but nothing had been taken. Glass in a door was broken to gain entry and the rear door was left open.

The young man seen behind the home was described as about 18 years old, 6 feet tall, weighing 155 pounds and having brown hair.

$7,000 warehouse fire at Madison

A fire in an empty warehouse at 1331 Grand Ave., rear, Madison, caused an estimated $7,000 damage to the building yesterday and early today.

Fourteen Madison firemen were called out at 10:50 p.m. Sunday and fought the fire until 12:57 a.m. today.

Press-Record Photographer Pat Foley on his way to work at 7 a.m. today noticed the fire had started again and alerted Madison police who, in turn, called firemen back to the scene.

"The fire had rekindled and there were spot fires at 7 a.m. this morning," Madison Fire

Chief Eldon Rhoads said. "When we got there last night the roof was really in flame. The cause at this time is unknown."

The block warehouse belongs to the Bingley Leasing Co. of East St. Louis, which was in the process of remodeling the structure on the inside.

STILL BURNING TODAY. Thick, black smoke billows from several storage tanks used by the former Johns-Manville plant on Bissell Street in Venice Saturday afternoon after Venice firemen received a report of the fire at 1 p.m., and decided to let it burn itself out. Dumont Warehousing of East St. Louis owns the property now and is dismantling many facilities of the old plant which manufactured roofing materials. The plant was closed after a fire several years ago destroyed warehouse buildings. That fire lasted several days. The tanks were still burning this morning. Police reported many calls about the fire and smoke which could be seen for some distance.
